Paints n’ brushes

Peradeniya Singers perform for cancer home

The Peradeniya Singers have decided to hold a concert with a primary objective of raising funds for Cancer Home and the leukaemia patients in Colombo.

The programme of Concert 2007 will include works from university, orchestras and choirs in Sri Lanka and some internationally renowned artists. The concert, known as ‘De Kitha’ will be held on the 15th of July at the University of Kelaniya (Aesthetic Studies). Starting off as a designer in the British School in Colombo, Arjun Delgoda has been influenced by many great artists such as Royden Gibbs unravelled a whole new world for Arjun. Arjun, having led his choir to the fiftieth anniversaries of university education of the university of Peradeniya (2002), the fiftieth anniversaries of university education in Sri Lanka (1992) and of the move of the university to Peradeniya (2002), has shown dedication as a conductor.

Arjun says that he had few answers to his questions in life when he was a school boy but he was always interested in music. Arjun believes that music has no boundaries and it is its universal language.

Arjun says “As I grew up, I knew that music is what I want to be doing for the rest of my life. I used to find out how to be and where to get into music. I knew that my path was towards music.”

Arjun believes that music has no boundaries and it is its universal language. As he grew up, he knew that music is what he wants to do for the rest of his life. He used to find out how to be and where to get into music, and he knew that his path was towards music.

Arjun believes that music has no boundaries and it is its universal language. As he grew up, he knew that music is what he wants to do for the rest of his life. He used to find out how to be and where to get into music, and he knew that his path was towards music.

Arjun believes that music has no boundaries and it is its universal language. As he grew up, he knew that music is what he wants to do for the rest of his life. He used to find out how to be and where to get into music, and he knew that his path was towards music.

Arjun believes that music has no boundaries and it is its universal language. As he grew up, he knew that music is what he wants to do for the rest of his life. He used to find out how to be and where to get into music, and he knew that his path was towards music.

Arjun believes that music has no boundaries and it is its universal language. As he grew up, he knew that music is what he wants to do for the rest of his life. He used to find out how to be and where to get into music, and he knew that his path was towards music.

Arjun believes that music has no boundaries and it is its universal language. As he grew up, he knew that music is what he wants to do for the rest of his life. He used to find out how to be and where to get into music, and he knew that his path was towards music.

Arjun believes that music has no boundaries and it is its universal language. As he grew up, he knew that music is what he wants to do for the rest of his life. He used to find out how to be and where to get into music, and he knew that his path was towards music.

Arjun believes that music has no boundaries and it is its universal language. As he grew up, he knew that music is what he wants to do for the rest of his life. He used to find out how to be and where to get into music, and he knew that his path was towards music.

Arjun believes that music has no boundaries and it is its universal language. As he grew up, he knew that music is what he wants to do for the rest of his life. He used to find out how to be and where to get into music, and he knew that his path was towards music.

Arjun believes that music has no boundaries and it is its universal language. As he grew up, he knew that music is what he wants to do for the rest of his life. He used to find out how to be and where to get into music, and he knew that his path was towards music.

Arjun believes that music has no boundaries and it is its universal language. As he grew up, he knew that music is what he wants to do for the rest of his life. He used to find out how to be and where to get into music, and he knew that his path was towards music.

Arjun believes that music has no boundaries and it is its universal language. As he grew up, he knew that music is what he wants to do for the rest of his life. He used to f...