

STARTrack

with Ivan Alvis

Star Track Album

There's Nothing Sean Kingston

Sean Kingston, JR, her know
Paula She's the woman of my
Hey, hey, haha life
Sean Kingston, Paula D Oh, yes she so right
So please let the chorus go

(Chorus)
There's nothing in this world
(Repeat Chorus)

There's not another girl that could satisfy my needs
There's nothing in this world
There's not another boy that could make me feel so sweet

'Cos me love life's so right
When she hold me so tight, how she kiss me good-night
'Cos he fills up my life
Like the sun, he shines bright
Boy, come with me now

The first night me meet her
Yes me senorita, me never want to leave her no
Because the gal look sweet and a treat
And me really want to take her home
'Cos she look nice and is a one of a kind
When me look up in her eyes then she got me, mesmerised

Picture perfect like a Kodak moment
When she kiss me good-night and she feelin' up on me
We been there from the jump, never front, never stunt
Never done what a average girl done
And I can tell by her body language
She feels my emotions
And got me anxious
So that's me type
Me and me angel
And me really have to let

(Sean Kingston)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

(Paula Deanda)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

(Paula Deanda)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

(Paula Deanda)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

(Paula Deanda)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

(Paula Deanda)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

(Paula Deanda)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

(Paula Deanda)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

(Paula Deanda)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

(Paula Deanda)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

(Paula Deanda)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

(Paula Deanda)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

(Paula Deanda)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

(Paula Deanda)
There's nothing in this world, there's nothing in this world
There's nothing, there's nothing.

A ROCKIN' good time for BON JOVI fans in the UAE

The Bon Jovi concert in Abu Dhabi, on May 20th 2008, has certainly rocked the scene in the Middle East.

Ecstatic Bon Jovi fans are still using superlatives to describe the historical happening, and they all say it was NOT JUST ANOTHER CONCERT.

Lots of music lovers travelled a long way to get to Abu Dhabi for the concert and Bon Jovi fulfilled their expectations and delivered a great show.

There were also quite a few Sri Lankans in an estimated crowd of 17,000 fans. And Seanalee Selladurai was one of them.

Seanalee, who works in Dubai, decided to check out the scene with her pals. They arrived early at the venue, the Emirates Palace, in order to position themselves at a spot that would enable them to catch the action on stage.

After five songs, Jon Bon Jovi, the group's lead singer, went back stage to change and gave Richie Sambora, a chance to sing "I'll Be There For You".

Jon came back and sang "Who Says You Can't go Home". This was hard rock at its finest, bred stright from new Jersey, USA and it was here in Abu Dhabi. After two hours of electrifying music, Bon Jovi signed off with "Goodnight, Abu Dhabi".

Says Seanalee: "Bon Jovi showed everyone that you don't have to be young to rock. Their stamina and vigor never once failed to help the crowd screaming for more. "It was a superb show - simply fantastic".

BON JOVI: Delivered a great show

SEANALEE: Experienced it all on May 20th at the Emirates Palace

The guys who make up the Sri Lankan band Jayasri, based in Vienna, Austria are gearing themselves up for the summer season in Europe.

Lots of festivals will be cropping up and Jayasri plan to project their Saamaya-Peace vibrations at all their live performances.

The last few months they have spent rehearsing and putting together new material for their concert dates which would include a full tour of Italy, covering most of the cities. There will also be stops in Greece and Cyprus.

Reggaeman, Prageeth Perera, who resides in Italy, will join the band as a guest artist at some of their gigs.

Jayasri's summer itinerary will include performances at the Rototom Sunplash Reggae Festival in Italy (featuring Ziggy Marley, Sean Paul, Third World, Burning Spear and lots of other Jamaican acts), the Multi-Cultural Festival, LENT, in Maribo, Slovenia (a 12-day event, highlighting the talents of over 400 performers), the Fester Begnung Cultural Festival in St. Poltton, and also the Africa Festival in Austria.

Jayasri will also have six of their songs included in a film, called "Machan", which is an Italy/German/Sri Lanka collaboration.

JAYASRI: Summer concerts in Europe

PEACE vibrations the JAYASRI WAY

The story is about a handball teams one-way ticket to Germany and is produced and directed by Oscar-nominated Italian director, Umberto Pasolini, and our very own Prasanna Vithanage. The film score is by Lakshman Joseph de Saram.

It's expected to be released worldwide this summer. The children's film,

"Pitasakawala Kumarayai, Pancho Hathai", soon to be released in Sri Lanka, will feature Jayasri's song, "Piyamanne-Siyumali" - a track from the group's first album. The new lyrics have been written by Ajantha Ranasinghe.

Jayasri will also be a part of director BooDee's new film - coming up with new songs with a different touch.

Seen 'n' Heard

HEARD... he talks highly of a band he is desperate to make a comeback with.

He portrays them as super musicians and the best available for his plans.

However, those who are familiar with the set up, describe them as being average performers, and also rather ancient in their outlook.

Everything is grandeur where this guy is concerned, but most people say his exploits should be taken with a grain of salt!

Sv Pals

• Name: Muzna Muheen Sirdeen
• Age: 16.
• Sex: Female.

• Address: C11/1, Sudunelumpura, Vijaya Road, Kolonnawa.

• Hobbies/Interests: Dancing, playing the organ, reading romantic stories and chatting on the internet. (Would like to have pan pals from the UK, New York, Australia, Canada, and Sri Lanka).

• Keen to make friends with readers of this page? Send us your name, age, sex, address and hobbies/interests. Write to: Ivan Alvis, C/o "Star Track", The Island, 223, Bloemendhal Road, Colombo 13. Or mail your details to: jetliner02@yahoo.com.

Cowell helped push fans to vote for Cook?

Even though the American Idol judges gave the impression of anointing David Archuleta as the winner during the American Idol 7 final performance show, it was David Cook who wound up the surprise winner in a landslide. Some fans have speculated that Simon Cowell was rough on David Cook because he intentionally wanted to create a backlash that would drive more votes to David Cook.

This conspiracy theory has been fuelled by the fact that Simon Cowell winked at David Cook after criticizing him for making the wrong song choice at the finale. When asked if Simon Cowell's criticism helped push his fans to vote more, David Cook said, "Wow. That's not a bad theory. I don't know. You know, all I can hope is that it was based on my own merit. Regardless, I'm happy where I'm at. Simon's blunt and he's honest and that's why they pay him the money that they pay him. The goal of the season for me was just to try to find some constructive criticism on what he was saying, which sometimes was a little tough, but that's part of the show."

Another popular American Idol conspiracy theory is that some contestants intentionally throw the competition because they are afraid they will be forced into putting out a pop album if they are the winner. When asked about the theory that it might be better not to win in order to keep rocker credibility, David Cook said, "Well, I mean obviously the theory's there. Did it cross my mind at any point in the competition? I mean, sure, but only as an objective point. I think going into this with an idea that you don't want to win I think is a huge slap in the face to the 103,000 people that auditioned this season that really wanted to win, so I definitely went into this to try to win it."

David Cook continued, "As far as having more success by not being a winner,

I think that's something that'll get played out hopefully in the next couple of years. I think Daughtry's success is amazing. So for me like right now I'm not trying to be Daughtry. You know, I'm just trying to put out a solid record. Even if it doesn't do well commercially, as long as I can say that I put out a record that I'm proud of, that's the goal right now and hopefully if I can do that, then success will follow."

After winning American Idol 7, David Cook broke down into tears. While the tears obviously looked like tears of happiness, some fans speculated that David Cook was upset about winning. In regards to the tears, David Cook explained, "Everybody talks about how towards the end I started crying a lot. Well, you know there was just a lot of intensity into the last few weeks as far as just what was at stake and all the work that had been put into it. I said in a lot of interviews the crying after

DAVID COOK: 'That's not a bad theory'

I won was like an exhale. This whole experience has been about eight months, including auditions. I felt like that whole time I was just holding my breath. So to be able to breathe and to enjoy the moment was amazing."

Why does David Cook think he won American Idol by 12 million votes? In the end, David Cook said, "You know, I think that number is actually really misleading. Obviously within the bubble of Idol, it's hard to kind of get a vibe on what's going on. I thought Archie was probably a little bit ahead of me, if I'm being honest. I think as far as the finale goes, there's a lot of conspiracy theories out there. I attribute the finale vote discrepancy just to my fans just being awesome. I don't really know how else to explain it. You know, my hats off to Archie for the whole scenario. I mean, he handled himself with a lot of grace. More importantly, he's just an amazing human being, so I was just honoured to share the stage with him."

United World Chart

- 4 Minutes - Madonna feat. Justin Timberlake
- Bleeding Love - Leona Lewis
- Love In This Club - Usher feat. Young Jeezy
- Mercy - Duffy
- Take A Bow - Rihanna
- Touch My Body - Mariah Carey
- Don't U, Ever Stop - Kat-Tun
- Lollipop - Lil Wayne feat. Static Major
- No Air - Jordin Sparks & Chris Brown
- Love Song - Sara Bareilles
- Stop And Stare - One Republic
- Low - Flo Rida, feat. T-Pain
- American Boy - Estelle feat. Kanye West
- With You - Chris Brown
- Violet Hill - Coldplay
- Pocketful Of Sunshine - Natasha Bedingfield
- Don't Stop The Music - Rihanna
- Apologize - Timbaland feat. One Republic
- Sexy Can I - Ray J & Yung Berg
- Break The Ice - Britney Spears

TOTP PopShot Chart

- Take A Bow - Rihanna.
- That's Not My Name - The Ting Tings.
- 4 Minutes - Madonna feat. Justin Timberlake.
- Heartbreaks - will.i.am feat. Cheryl Cde.
- Black & Gold - San Sparro.
- Wearing My Rolex - Wiley.
- Warwick Avenue - Duffy.
- Love In This Club - Usher feat Young Jeezy.
- Cry For You - September.
- Violet Hill - Coldplay.