Before The Storm

Miley Cyrus and Nick Jonas

Miley:
I know this isn't what I wanted,.
I never thought it'd come this far,
Just thinking back to where we started,
And how we lost all that we are .

Nick:
We were young and times were easy.
But I can see it's not the same,
I'm standing here but you don't see me,
I'd give it all for that to change.
But I don't want to lose her
Don't wanna let her go.

Miley:
Standin' out in the rain
Need to know if it's over
'Cuz I will leave you alone

Nick:
I'm flooded with all this pain
Knowing I'll never hold her

Both:
Like I did
Before the storm
(Yeah, before the storm)

Nick:
With every strike of lightning,

Miley:
Comes a memory that lasts.

Both:
And not a word is left unspoken
As the thunder starts to crash

Miley:
Maybe I
Should give up.
Standin' out in the rain
Need to know if it's over,
'Cuz I will leave you alone

Nick:
I'm flooded with all this pain.,
Knowing IT never hold her

Both:
Like I did
Before the storm

Both:
Standin' out in the rair
Knowin' that it's really over
Please don't leave me alone
I'm flooded with all this pain
Knowing I'll never hold ya
Like I did.
Before the storm.
(The storm)
Like I did
Before the storm

Miley:
Trying to keep
The lights from going out

Both:
And the clouds are ripping out my broken heart
They always say
That a heart is not a home
Without the one who gets you through the storm

Tiny tot – mighty plans

He was known as the child prodigy drummer from the Maldives – and still is!

However, Thotho is now concentrating more on his studies.

His parents, Artay and Thohira, would like him to excel in his studies – just the way he made it big as a drummer.

The family spent a few days in Colombo last week, and talking to "Star Track", Arty stressed the importance of studying and getting through exams.

"Once he has finished and done with his studies, he can then checkout what he fancies doing," said his mum, Thohira.

And Thotho has grandeur plans – he wants to be Hollywood star!

Probably, one would say that he is too young to think that far, but he has the backing of his parents.

Thotho, who turned 11 on June 3rd (09), is growing up quite fast and has the looks of a budding Bollywood (or is it Hollywood!) child star.

Of course, music comes first where Thotho is concerned. But the pop stuff is not his cup of tea!

He goes for the heavier variety and will bring them all into his repertoire no sooner he has sufficient time to dabble in music.

Thotho started out as a drummer and won praise from many leading personalities in the music scene for his skill and dexterity.

He has now added singing to his list of inborn talent.

He went to London to cultivate an acceptable accent for his singing and undergoes voice training in the Maldives.

Believe me, little Thotho seems very impressed with the capabilities of the late Elvis Presley.

The now generation seems clueless where Elvis is concerned – but not Thotho.

In fact, he did a good impersonation (singing a little bit of "Jailhouse Rock"), to give me an idea of his love for some of Elvis' songs.

Thotho is blessed with everything – good looks, talent and adoring parents who always make his dreams come true!

He has a collection of IPods, laptop computers and a Rado wristwatch.

In spite of all the good things coming his way, he's still a sweet, loving kid.

CHITRAL

with the Luxembourg Philharmonic Orchestra

Obviously this story should have made the "Star Track" scene last Tuesday, but it got to me after the deadline.

Yes, according to the release that came my way, internationally renowned rock vocalist, Chitral "Chity" Somapala of Civilization One, was to perform Rock Anthems with the Luxembourg Philharmonic Orchestra (conducted by Prof. Gast Waltzing) on 21st June, 2009, for the Fête de la Musique in Luxembourg City.

Chitral, the release goes on to say, is a much in-demand singer due to his chameleon-like vocal range, which can adapt to any musical situation he's presented with.

From soulful blues tenor to intense, aggressive metal maniac, from melodic pop singer to classic rock stylist, Chitral instills passion into every single note he sings.

Songs that were to be performed at this free outdoor concert, include classic tracks by Led Zeppelin, Queen, Deep Purple, Uriah Heep, and Yes.

Some of the artists who have previously performed with the Luxembourg Philharmonic Orchestra at this and other events, include The Scorpions, Patricia Kaas, Didier Lockwood, and New York Voices.

Chitral "Chity" Somapala

Chitral, by the way, was also a member of the group Friends, led by Nihar Hamid, who are now based in Germany and perform mainly in Europe.

Seen 'n' Heard

HEARD... she has been sidelined by most people connected with the music scene.

She's hardly (or never) invited to participate in events involving the majority of the clan.

And they all have valid reasons for blacklisting her.

The general consensus is that she is arrogant... and very much on the uppish side.

However, she has hardly any noteworthy achievements to hold her head that high!

Her combined efforts never ever worked out and even the mother and daughter reunion is now history.

Cyrus delighted to 'reconnect with Jonas'

Miley Cyrus is "really happy" to be spending time with ex-boyfriend, Nick Jonas, after "reconnecting" with him following her split from model, Justin Gaston.

The singer/actress was left heartbroken after calling it quits with Gaston earlier this month

She turned to Jonas to help lift her spirits and the pair has been snapped frolicking on a jet ski off the coast of Tybee Island, near Savannah, Georgia, where Cyrus is filming new movie, "The Last Song".

The16-year-old admits she is glad to be on good terms with Jonas - and the two stars' families are even more delighted.

And she is still refusing to rule out rekindling her romance with the "Love Bug" hitmaker sometime in their future.

Cyrus says, "He's my best friend, and we still hang out all the time. We've definitely reconnected. We don't know what's going to happen in the future, but right now we're just kind of kicking it and hanging out as much as we can."

The former couple has even recorded a song, called "Before the Storm", about their break-up - and Cyrus is enjoying the revived professional and personal relationship with Jonas.

She adds, "We both just kind of saw each other and kind of decided this whole thing (break-up) is kind of stupid. We were all over the separation.

"I'm really happy to be back in their lives. And our families are super happy we're hanging out again.

Naked snaps cost Rihanna Vogue covershoot

Rihanna's naked photo scandal has cost her a covershoot with Vogue magazine, according to reports.

The R&B beauty was being lined up for a prestigious photoshoot with the glossy title - but editor, Anna Wintour, was scared off after shots of her posing naked leaked online.

According to a source, Anna told her that Vogue absolutely loves her and really wanted to work with her. And Rihanna was ecstatic. (But) Anna hasn't returned any of her calls. Rihanna's so upset... She hopes the people at Vogue change their minds."

The news comes the same day further shots of Rihanna and ex-boyfriend, Chris Brown, appeared on the internet, showing the former couple kissing in bed.

Brown IS currently awaiting trial on charges he assaulted his ex during a fight in February (09).
