HUSH, HUSH Pussycat Dolls

Ooooooh, ooooo
I never needed you to be strong
I never needed you for pointin' out my wrongs
I never needed pain, I never needed strain.
My love for you was strong enough you should've known.
I never needed you for judgement
I never needed you to question what I spent
I never asked for help, I take care of myself
I don't know why you think you got a hold on me.
And it's a little in the conversations
There isn't anything that you can say
And my eyes hurt, hands shiver, so look at me and listen to me because.

I don't want to stay another minute
I don't want you to say a single word
Hush Hush, Hush Hush
There is no other way
I get the final say
Because I don't want to do this any longer
I don't want you
There's nothing left to say
Hush Hush, Hush Hush
I've already spoken
Our love is broken
Baby Hush Hush

I never needed your corrections
On everything from how I act to what I say
I never needed words, I never needed hurt
I never needed you to be there

everyday
I'm sorry for the way I let go
Of everything I wanted when you came along
But I am never beaten, broken, not defeated
I know next to you is not where I belong
And it's a little late for explanations
There isn't anything that you can do
And my eyes hurt, hands shiver, so you will listen when I say baby

(Repeat Verse Two)

No more words, no more lies
No more crying ooh ooh
No more pain, no more hurt
No more tryin' 'Oh oh yeah
Because I don't want to stay another minute
I don't want you
To say a single word
Hush Hush, Hush Hush
There is no other way
I get the final say

Because I don't want to do this any longer
I don't want you
There's nothing left to say
Hush Hush, Hush Hush
I've already spoken
Our love is broken
Baby Hush Hush
Yeah, Oh
Hush Hush, Hush Hush
I've already spoken
Our love is broken
Baby

JAYASRI

AWESOME achievements

They explode whenever they get onstage and now they are a known name at summer festivals in Europe.

Based in Austria, the band Jayasri did a short stint in Colombo, during the auvrudu season in April this year (09), before rushing back to Europe to continue with their summer commitments.

They moved into action in Austria in May (09) before doing dates in Paris with their "Peace Tour", followed by the Reggae Open-Air in Ebreichsdorf, Reggae Jam 2009 in Renisberg Bury Arena and the Fest der Begegnung Open-Air in ST. Polten.

These were some of the big events which also featured some international bands. Jayasri took the main stage at Slovenia's biggest festival, the LENT International Music Festival held in the town of Maribor on July 9th (09).

This annual multi-cultural 16-day festival transforms Maribor into a world of its own. Over 400 performers display their talents at various concerts - jazz, classical, rock, reggae, pop and world music - and the concerts attract more than a million visitors from all over the globe.

Festival LENT, which has its origins in the folklore festival, Folkart, has received numerous awards, including 40 awards from the prestigious International Festival and Events Association (IFEA).

To date, many internationally acknowledged musicians have performed at Festival LENT, including Ray Charles, B. B. King, James Brown, Jose Feliciano, Marcio Parker, Living Colour, Solomon Burge, Keziah Jones and Cubanismo. And to have Jayasri performing at such a festival is, indeed, an awesome achievement.

They did quite a few of their original songs to a packed, energetic audience and were later interviewed backstage for Slovenian TV and radio.

Jayasri took their Peace Tour to Milano, in Italy, and to Germany and Austria as well.

On Sept 25th (09), they will be doing the African festival in Vienna.

The international award-winning film, "Machan", which features six songs by Jayasri, is now being shown in most of the cinemas in Austria and in the cities of Europe.

This is it!

No one is ever going to forget the late and great 'King of Pop', Michael Jackson.

Although he is now no more in the land of the living, his music will continue to boom on.

Jackson's tracks will be heard - probably for generations to come.

I guess most of you must be in possession of at least one track of Jackson's - if not more.

However, if you want to add more good Jackson music to your collection, this is it.

We have worked out a very interesting Michael Jackson competition, together with Music 4 U, situated at No. 34, Roberts Road, Dehiwela.

You get the opportunity of winning one of two DVDs or a CD of the late singer. And we will be picking three winners in all.

The DVDs are of Jackson's Memorial Service and a two-hour live performance, while the CD is a Jackson Tribute Mixtape.

It contains 30 tracks, including such electrifying songs like "Billie Jean", "Rock With You", "Don't Stop Till You Get Enough", "Shake Your Body" (Down To The Ground), "Off The Wall", "Thriller", "Man In The Mirror", "Bad", "Black or White" and "Beat It".

To try your luck, you need to give us the answers to the following two questions:

1. Michael Jackson was married to Presley's daughter. What's her name?

2. Give us the name of his three children?

You could either post your answers to us, or e-mail them.

The mailing address is: Ivan Alvis, C/o "Star Track", The Island, 223, Bloemendhal Road, Colombo 13. And the e-mail address is: jetliner02@yahoo.com.

We need your entries in on or before Friday, August 21st.

By the way, Music 4 U has a superb collection of English songs, from the 50s to the present era - classical, pop, rock 'n' roll, hip hop, country, gospel, jazz, R'n'B, etc.

You could buzz them on 072-4005416.

Jackson was a Moonwalking Zombie

Michael Jackson would 'moonwalk into the wilderness surrounding his Neverland Ranch home, while high on prescription pills, according to the King of Pop's one-time "drug runner".

Dwayne Swingler claims he'd pick up a bag of pills from an unofficial clinic in Santa Barbara, California, four times a week - and deliver it direct to the doped-up pop superstar.

The personal assistant was so trusted by Jacko, he was entrusted with the running of his Neverland estate - and quickly became Jackson's right-hand man.

The job came with a Bentley, designer suits and gifts, but also meant leading regular estate search parties for the missing star.

According to Swingler, "He was a zombie. He'd wander off up to half a mile away. I'd have to go find him and bring him back home.

"He was doped up 24 hours a day for so many years - it's a miracle he survived as long as he did."

In fact, Jackson came close to dying of dehydration during his child molestation trial in 2005 - because he was so scared he would be poisoned, he refused to eat or drink anything.

The pop superstar was acquitted of all charges in 2005, but the long and embarrassing trial drove Jackson to paranoia and starvation.

A friend recalls, "The last week of the trial, I got a call from (Jackson's father) Joe and a message from his mother saying I needed to come out and take a look at him because they were worried about his demeanour.

"When (we went) to Neverland and he asked me to come, upstairs and he grabbed me and started crying and said, 'Please don't leave me, they're trying to kill me'. I said, 'When was the last time you ate?' and he said, 'No, they'll poison me'. Then I said, 'When was the last time you drank water?' and so one thing led to another."

The friend advised the "Thriller" hitmaker to undergo a series of tests to determine what was wrong: "The only thing it pointed out was he was extremely dehydrated, nothing wrong with his heart, nothing wrong with his lungs. So the next day we got out of court and I said, 'I need to take you to a hospital,' and he said, 'No, no, they'll kill me!'"

The friend finally managed to convince Jackson to check into a hospital and spend the night receiving the treatment he desperately needed.

The pal adds, "So we went to a hospital in San Francisco and they start examining him.

At about 6 p.m., they start intravenously putting liquid in him, and, at about 6 am they were still putting liquid in him. The doctor said to me, had he waited 12 more hours he would have been dead."

Jackson died after suffering a cardiac arrest on 25 June (09). Reports suggest he

Seen 'n' Heard

HEARD... the good old days seem to be over for these guys.

They were enormous in the scene here decades ago, but the glamour and attraction have all seem to have evaporated!

They are surviving though, but with a lineup that is now down to just one original member.

Even their search for the glam side of entertainment has proved to be an arduous task.

Their music is not what it used to be; rather boring to those seeking variety.

Probably it's their stereotype format that has got them into this position!
